

FRANSCHHOEK LITERARY FESTIVAL 2019

FRIDAY 17 May

FRIDAY 10h00-11h00

1 State of the nation, state of the world (NG Church): Does the state of international/global politics reflect the state of SA politics? Peter Hain (Mandela: His Essential Life) and RW Johnson (Fighting for the Dream) discuss. Chaired by Fred Khumalo.

2 The fine print on the ballot paper (New School Hall): Human rights activist Greg Mills and former Zimbabwe finance minister Tendai Biti (Democracy Works) discuss the pitfalls and rewards of democracy in a state of inequality, with Jacques Rousseau in the chair.

3 One-on-one with Heather Morris (Old School Hall): International best-selling author Heather Morris (The Tattooist of Auschwitz) chats to Kate Sidley about the extraordinary events that led to her remarkable and moving story of love.

4 Yours sincerely (Church Hall): Historical fiction writers Clare Houston (An Unquiet Place) and Mark Winkler (Theo & Flora) discuss the allure of a good letter when mapping the past. Chaired by Steven Boykey Sidley.

5 Those who kill, those who protect (Congregational Church: In conversation with Mike Wills, Dan Wylie (Death and Compassion – The Elephant in Southern African Literature) and Ian Glenn (First Safari - Searching For Francois Levillant) explores the stories we have told ourselves about our relationship with animals, across three centuries of diverse literary genres.

6 The worlds we created (Council Chamber: Speculative fiction writers Tracey Farren (The Book of Malachi) and Masande Ntshanga (Triangulum, The Reactive) use the imagined to help us breach the boundary between what is and what could be. Fellow fantasist Mohale Mashigo (Intruders) chairs.

7 Take one cup of... (Hospice Hall): At a time when digital threatened to swallow print whole, foodie books survived and flourished. Lesego Semanya (Dijo – My Food Journey) and Karen Dudley (Set a Table) chat to Tamara LePine-Williams about the delectable phenomenon that is a recipe book.

8 For the thrill of it (Travellers Lodge): Vanessa Raphaely (Plus One) and Mike Nicol (Sleeper) know how to keep readers on a knife's edge. Lorraine Sithole (BookWormersGP) finds out how they do it.

FRIDAY 11h00-12h00

9 Masterclass: Written History (Library): Historian and storyteller Simon Sebag Montefiore (Written in History, Jerusalem, Romanovs) found his richest stories while digging through the past. In this workshop, he shares his research experience with those who want to write their own histories. R150

FRIDAY 11h30-12h30

10 Flogging the dead horse (NG Church): Has politics become the enemy of society? Join Leon Schreiber (Coalition Country) and Adam Habib (Rebels & Rage) in conversation with Ralph Mathekga (Ramaphosa's Turn).

11 Stirring the plot (New School Hall): Peter Church (Crackerjack), Deon Meyer (The Woman in the Blue Cloak) and Imraan Coovadia (A Spy in Time) chat with Africa Melane about the intricacies of creating – and sticking to – their plots.

12 An open book (Old School Hall): Writers both reveal and discover themselves in their writing. Sue Nyathi (The Gold Diggers), Ingrid Winterbach (The Troubled Times of Magrieta Prinsloo) and Carol Gibbs (All Things Bright and Broken) delve into the psychology of fiction with Joanne Macgregor (The First Time I Died).

13 Who lives here anyway? (Church Hall): Tanya Pampalone, Loren Landau (I Want to Go Home Forever: Stories of Becoming and Belonging in South Africa's Great Metropolis) and Rachel Matteau Matsa (Real & Imagined Readers – Censorship, publishing and reading under apartheid) speak of othering, alienation and familial connections. Paul Choy (Somewhere. Anywhere) leads the conversation.

14 Translating the classics (Congregational Church): Nkosinathi Sithole (No Matter When) and David wa Maahlamela (Stitching a Whirlwind: An anthology of southern African poems and translations) talk to Antjie Krog about the joys and challenges of the Africa Pulse project through which eight African literary works are now translated into English.

15 The story of me (Council Chamber): What power lies in writing your deepest stories for all to read, and how does it impact on the writers' lives? Landa Mabenge (Becoming Him) share the stories of their stories with Phehello Mofokeng.

16 In the beginning (Hospice Hall): Nancy Richards invites Michelle Sacks (You Were Made for This) and Lauri Kubuitsile (But Deliver Us From Evil) to reveal what it really takes to write that first book – and where they found motivation to write the next.

17 Short tall tales (Travellers Lodge): David Bristow (The Game Ranger, The Knife, The Lion and The Sheep) and Fred Khumalo (Talk of the Town) chat with Karabo Kgoleng about the art of the short story.

18 Moods of Nature (The Franschhoek Theatre): Heinrich van den Berg's Moods of Nature perfectly captures the fragility, magnificence and importance of our wildlife. He shares his journey through the lens with fellow photographer Victor Dlamini.

FRIDAY 13h00-14h00

19 Calibrating a brittle compass (NG Church): Can you truly separate politics from morality? Should you? Barry Gilder (The List) and Greg Mills (Democracy Works) investigate with Jacques Rousseau.

20 The lovers (New School Hall): Heather Morris (The Tattooist of Auschwitz), Rutendo Tavengerwei (The Colours that Blind) and Qarnita Loxton (Being Lily) tell stories of the heart. What does this do to their own hearts, asks Lorraine Sithole?

21 En route to the truth (Old School Hall): Whether in fact or fiction, the search for truth can be as exhausting as it is revelatory. Pieter van Zyl (Gert & Joey) and Leon Schreiber (Coalition Country) share some of the astonishing truths they uncovered while writing their books, with Victor Dlamini.

22 One-on-one: Peter Hain (Church Hall): Peter Hain (Mandela: The Essential Life) chats with fellow Madiba biographer Kate Sidley about writing the life of one of the most revered yet controversial men of our times.

23 The truth in fiction (Congregational Church): A good novel often works because we see ourselves in the characters. Vincent Pienaar (Too Many Tsunamis) and Fiona Snyckers (Lacuna) discuss the appeal of creating real people in imaginary situations with Gail Schimmel (The Accident).

24 Another time. Another space (Council Chamber): Imraan Coovadia (A Spy in Time) and Mohale Mashigo (Intruders) write of ordinary people in extraordinary circumstances. They discuss how the fantastical often helps us face the darkly real, with Sara-Jayne King in the chair.

25 Why the world needs dung beetles (Hospice Hall): Through the eras of alchemy and religion, to the days of science, the dung beetle has been a symbol of life and renewal. Authors Helen Lunn and Marcus Byrne (The Dance of the Dung Beetles) share the wonders of these charming – and seemingly charmed – little creatures with Don Pinnock.

26 Young people's stories for change (Travellers Lodge)

Hero Within and Other Writing came out of FunDza Literacy Trust's Bridging Divides project, where young people explored how inequality manifested in their lives. These stories remind us that society remains unequal and violent, yet they envisage a different future - a space you are privileged to share with Athenkosi Cetyana, Pamela Mali, Sicelo Kula (Taking Chances). Ros Haden chairs.

27 From hobby to career (The Franschhoek Theatre): First book: tick! Second book: tick! At what point (if ever) is it time to give up your day job and start doing this full time? Wamuwi Mbao asks of Joanne Macgregor (The Time I Died) and Irma Venter (Circus).

FRIDAY 14h30-15h30

Michael le Cordeur

28 How I found my first story (NG Church): Ekow Duker leads Deon Meyer (The Woman in the Blue Cloak) and Lauri Kubuitsile in conversation about that eureka moment that got them going.

29 Know what I'm saying? (New School Hall): Melusi Tshabalala (Melusi's Everyday Zulu), Karin Cronje (There Goes English Teacher), and Simon Sebag Montefiore (Written in History) unpack the blight of miscommunication with Michael le Cordeur.

30 Renovating the rainbow? (Old School Hall): Rekgotsfetse (Kgotsi) Chikane (Breaking a Rainbow, Building a Nation), Kharnita Mohamed (Called to Song) and Sihle Khumalo (Rainbow Nation, My Zulu Arse) discuss what it will take to make the real changes that our society desperately needs to grow, with Sipho Hlongwane.

31 Risky writers (Church Hall): What do Harris Dousemetzis (The Man Who Killed Apartheid), Wandile Ngcaweni (We Are No Longer at Ease) and Zapiro (WTF) have in common? They are all uneasy in comfort zones. Tom Eaton finds out just how far they'd dare to go.

32 Marketing your book (Congregational Church): What does – or should – it take for an author to market their book; and isn't that the publisher's job? Barry Gilder (The List) and Eva Mazza (Sex, Lies and Stellenbosch) discuss their diverse tactics with Vanessa Raphaely.

33 One-on-one: Research, fact checking and consistency (Council Chamber): Ingrid Winterbach and Tony Peake (North Facing) delve into the trickier elements of bringing a story together.

34 Write what you don't know (Hospice Hall): Amy Heydenrych (Shame on You) and Michelle Sacks (You Were Made for This) like to shift perspectives and stretch their understanding beyond relatability. Linda Kaoma finds out how they do it.

35 Forgetting the present (Travellers Lodge): How do some writers move so seemingly seamlessly between the past and present in their storytelling? Trevor Sacks (Lucky Packet) and Zanna Sloniowska (The House with the Stained-Glass Window) discuss the challenges of their own time travels with Dianne Stewart.

14h30-16h30

36 Workshop: Stories on camera (The Franschoek Theatre): Mauritian photographer, TED talker and compulsive traveller Paul Choy is a self-made master of visual story telling. Bring your smart phone, your imagination and a receptive eye to this mind stretching workshop. R150 through webtickets.co.za.

FRIDAY 16h00-17h00

37 One-on-one: Freedom and the law (NG Church): Dennis Davis (Guide to Democrats) and John Dugard (Business as Usual) unpack the power of the law in dismantling oppression.

38 At what cost? (New School Hall): Sipho Hlongwane asks Harris Dousemetzis (The Man Who Ended Apartheid) and Rob Rose (Steinheist) about the risks, rewards, and sheer volume of work that goes into writing an exposé.

39 How to be (Old School Hall): Wamuwi Mbao and acclaimed US-Nigerian author Chike Frankie Edozien discuss Lives of Great Men and what it means to have your very existence counter your culture and traditions.

40 Sea Change (Church Hall): Craig Foster (Sea Change) takes us into the depths of his research and experience tracking the sea life and exploring the mysteries of our kelp forests. Chaired by Mike Wills.

41 What no one told me about being a writer (Congregational Church): Amalia Rosenblum (Israeli novelist, screenwriter and couples' therapist) and Darrel Bristow-Bovey share some of the less glamorous aspects of writing with Sara-Jayne King.

42 To wit (Council Chamber): Some writers can't help seeing the funny side. How else do you get the message across? Lerato Mogoathle (Vagabond) and Khaya Dlanga give the matter serious thought.

43 Let's talk about food (Hospice Hall): For Lesego Semanya (Dijo - My Food, My Journey) cooking is people, history, family and traditions. Join them in conversation about the dishes that are still essential to you and your family gatherings. Kate Sidley does the stirring.

44 One-on-one: Call us Frank (Travellers Lodge): Diane Awerbuck and Alex Latimer (North) chat about the benefits and challenges of co-writing fiction and what it takes to become Frank Owen.

45 I Wrote This for You (Leeu Estate): Iain Thomas's (aka 'pleasefindthis') blog I Wrote This For You is now an internationally bestselling book of great depth and beauty. He reads and shares thoughts with Nancy Richards, at the beautiful Leeu Estate. This event includes a delicious high tea, which will be served from 14h30-15h45. R200 through webtickets.co.za.

FRIDAY EVENING EVENTS

17h30-18h15

46 A book walks into a bar (Hospice Hall): International author Steven Boykey Sidley draws on his own experiences and those of other authors, to sing a praise song to the strange and volatile bedfellows of bars and books, alcohol and fiction. R100 through webtickets.co.za.

FRIDAY EVENING EVENTS

19:00-20:10

Concert 1 (NG Church)

Charl Du Plessis (piano) plays a varied programme of music by Chopin, Piazzolla, Gershwin and his own improvisations. R100 through www.webtickets.co.za and at the door.

SATURDAY 18 MAY

SATURDAY 10h00-11h00

47 Believe it or not (NG Church): Noseweek editor Martin Welz chats with Tom Eaton and Anton Harber as they dish the dirt on misinformation and misdeeds in the news world.

48 Bringing history to life (New School Hall): Bill Nasson and Vivian Bickford-Smith (Illuminating Lives) and John Laband (The Eight Zulu Kings: From Shaka to Goodwill Zwelethini) bring their extensive knowledge to two books that will fascinate Africa history buffs and students alike. Linda Kaoma is in the chair.

49 When the heart speaks (Old School Hall): Tony Peake and Samantha Smirin (A Life Interrupted) discuss the essence of friendship, love and identity, with Karabo Kgoleng.

50 The last chance for elephants? (Church Hall): An elephant is poached somewhere in Africa every 15 minutes, every day. The Last Elephants might be their last hope. Compilers of this vitally important book, Colin Bell and Don Pinnock join Dan Wylie as they talk about why the survival of elephants matters with John Maytham.

51 In search of a democratic solution (Congregational Church): Democracy Works asks how we can nurture and consolidate democracy in Africa. Greg Mills shares solutions with Dennis Davis.

52 Choosing my words (Council Chamber): Sometimes it's about the story; other times it's about the words. If you're lucky, it's about both. Creator of fine prose, Darrel Bristow-Bovey and Botlhale Tema reflect on the art of beautiful writing with Pippa Hudson.

SATURDAY 10h00-11h00

53 The women left behind (Hospice Hall): Who are feminists really fighting for? Fiona Snyckers and Ena Jansen (Like Family) discuss how good intentions can sometimes get in the way of impactful results in the pursuit of equality.

54 Not just me (Travellers Lodge): Charles Abrahams (Class Action), Lerato Mogoathle and Francoise Malby-Anthony (An Elephant in My Kitchen) tell not only their stories, but the stories of their time and circumstances. What can we learn from their personal views of their world, asks Sue Grant-Marshall?

SATURDAY 10h00-12h00

55 Workshop: Writing memoir (Library): Back by popular demand, author and writing coach Dianne Stewart shares the skills specific to the writing of personal memories. R150 through webticketx.co.za.

SATURDAY 11h30-12h30

Concert 2 (NG Church)

Christopher Duigan (piano) plays 'Mostly Mozart' including the Sonata in F K. 332 and music by Greig and Debussy. R100 through www.webtickets.co.za and at the door.

56 Getting personal about politics (New School Hall): Ralph Mathekga shares his insights on political identity and why we are all political beings with Victor Dlamini.

57 You just have to laugh (Old School Hall): Just when you think times are tough, they get tougher. Thank goodness for the sharp wit of Zapiro (WTF) and Hagen Engler (Black Twitter, Blitz & A Boerie As Long As Your Leg). Mike Wills finds out how they keep going.

58 What happened to the news? (Church Hall): 'The News' used to be relatively reliable and accessible, but now we don't know where to find it or whether we can trust it. Nancy Richards asks Yves Vanderhaeghen (Afrikaner Identity: Dysfunction and Grief) how this came to be.

59 Is society beyond all hope? (Congregational Church): Has civil society become complacent, allowing lawlessness to be normalised on the streets, in parliament, in places of learning – or is it a sign of something deeper? Rekgotsofetse (Kgotsi) Chikane and Peter Hain discuss with Africa Melane.

SATURDAY 11h30-12h30

60 Books that changed me (Council Chamber): We all have those books that shifted our beliefs and behaviours, and which set us on a new course. Mark Winkler, Zanna Sloniowska and Vincent Pienaar share theirs and invite you to share yours. Chaired by Phehello Mofokeng.

61 More than just a meal (Hospice Hall): Super chefs Lesego Semanya and Bertus Basson (Being Bertus Basson, by Russel Wasserfall) talk to Tamara LePine-Williams about food as sustenance, business, fashion and love.

62 One-on-one with Michelle Sacks (Travellers Lodge): Born in Cape Town, based in Europe, Michelle Sacks (You Were Made for This) has seemingly seamlessly slipped into the role of thriller writer. She chats with Ann Donald about her journey.

SATURDAY 13h00-14h00

63 Schools of thought (NG Church): Adam Habib, Wandile Ngcaweni and Saskia Bailey (Whatever) debate what it means to have an education. Jonathan Jansen (distinguished professor SU Faculty of Education) chairs.

64 In two minds (New School Hall): Pippa Hudson wants to know how three such nice authors get into the heads of murderous villains. Or is it the other way around? She asks Mike Nicol (Sleeper), Louisa Treger (The Dragon Lady) and Deon Meyer (Woman in the Blue Cloak) for enlightenment.

65 One-on-one: Letters That Changed the World (Old School Hall): In creating this rich anthology, historian Simon Sebag Montefiore selected more than a hundred letters, of extraordinary delight and diversity, from ancient times to modern day. He chats with Fred Khumalo about what it took – and what he learned.

66 A mind of their own (Church Hall): Joanne Macgregor (The First Time I Died), Amalia Rosenblum and Ekow Duker (Yellowbone) discuss the sorcery behind the creation of believable minds in imaginary characters with Mohale Mashigo.

67 Wild thoughts (Congregational Church): When we think of stories, we think of people, but animals have their own tales to tell. Marcus Byrne, Helen Lunn and Francoise Malby-Anthony (An Elephant in My Kitchen) speak for the animals with Karabo Kgoleng.

68 For the love of history (Council Chamber): With Bill Nasson in the chair, fiction author Clare Houston and biographer Sue Grant-Marshall discuss why we are so drawn to the past.

69 Authentic voices (Hospice Hall): Writing convincing dialogue can be a writer's biggest challenge. Heather Morris shares the tricks she learned to get it right. Chaired by Alison Lowry.

SATURDAY 13h00-14h00

70 Full time everything (Travellers Lodge): For anyone who wants to write but 'can't find the time'. Non-fiction writer Dominique Malherbe (Somewhere In Between) and novelist Gail Schimmel (The Accident) both juggle families, legal careers and writing. They share what works for them and what doesn't with Nancy Richards.

71 Write for the worlds (The Franschoek Theatre): Athol Williams (Pushing Boulders) and Guyanese-American Gaiutra Bahadur (Coolie Woman: The Odyssey of Indenture) – both contributors to the new anthology We Mark Your Memory: Writing from the Descendants of Indenture – discuss the value of telling personal truths to global audiences. With Michael Le Cordeur in the chair, supported by Commonwealth Writers.

SATURDAY 14h30-15h30

72 Gangster State (NG Church): Join Pieter-Louis Myburgh, author of the groundbreaking new book Gangster State, in conversation with Cape Talk political journalist Lester Kiewit about how he uncovered Ace Magashule's alleged corruption, dodgy deals and a relationship with the Guptas, ultimately leading to personal enrichment and his rise to power.

73 Lawfare (New School Hall): What are we getting so wrong with politics that the law has to constantly intervene? And can the judiciary survive the deluge? Judge Dennis Davis and Michelle le Roux attempt to answer these questions, with Ralph Mathekga in the chair.

74 Beyond good intentions (Old School Hall): Meaning well doesn't always translate to doing good. Sipho Hlongwane talks privilege, patronage, and denial with Chike Frankie Edozien.

75 Self-othering (Church Hall): Join Yves Vanderhaeghen, Ena Jansen, Charles Abrahams and Wamuwi Mbao in a conversation about claiming victimhood to displace the burden of guilt.

76 Fascinations most foul (Congregational Church): What's so captivating about murder? John Maytham investigates this odd interest of ours with Louisa Treger, Irma Venter and Joanne Macgregor.

77 Tell it like it is (Council Chamber): Carsten Rasch (Between Rock & A Hard Place) and Hagen Engler swap stories of their South Africa then and now with Tom Eaton.

78 Why the world needs dung beetles II (Hospice Hall): Through the eras of alchemy and religion, to the days of science, the dung beetle has been a symbol of life and renewal. Authors Helen Lunn and Marcus Byrne (The Dance of the Dung Beetles) share the wonders of these charming – and seemingly charmed – little creatures with Don Pinnock.

SATURDAY 14h30-16h30

79 Workshop: Finding your short form (Library): Acclaimed Guyanese-American author Gaiutra Bahadur will guide you through the art of saying it all in few words. This workshop is ideal for lovers of poetry, commentary and short story writing. R150 through webtickets.co.za

SATURDAY 14h30-15h30

80 Tales of the town (Travellers Lodge): Eva Mazza (Sex, Lies and Stellenbosch), Zanna Sloniowska and Chase Rhys (Kinnes) turn the familiar into fiction in three of the most unputdownable books. Melinda Ferguson asks them how they did it.

81 What life has taught me (The Franschoek Theatre): There's nothing like learning from the pains and joys of others. Erns Grundling (Walk It Off) and Khaya Dlanga share their adventures and inspire us to remember our own.

SATURDAY 16h00-17h00

82 Our only world (NG Church): Tamara LePine-Williams raises the question we're all asking: what is our collective responsibility in halting the desecration of planet Earth? with Duncan Brown (Wilder Lives – Humans and our Environments).

83 The power of one (New School Hall): Everyone has it in them to create great change. John Dugard, Wandile Ngcaweni and Ray Ndlovu (In the Jaws of the Crocodile) discuss what it takes to be a change-maker with Jacques Rousseau.

84 The lover boys (Old School Hall): Mark Winkler (Theo & Flora), Craig Higginson and Ivan Vladislavic open their hearts to us as they discuss writing about love with Lorraine Sithole.

85 The muckrakers (Congregational Church): Steven Boykey Sidley talks to truth seekers Harris Dousemetzis and Anton Harber (South African Muckraking) about the war against misinformation and lies.

86 The world is a source (Council Chamber): Whether history or current affairs, Simon Sebag Montefiore and Sue Nyathi (The Gold Diggers) use their areas of expertise to fuel their fiction. They talk of how they filter reality through their stories, with Alison Lowry.

87 Not young adults only (Hospice Hall): Is YA only meant for the young, and what (if any) benefits can be gained from being a cross-generational reader? Rutendo Tavengerwei and Lauri Kubuitsile chat with writer, writing teacher and oral poet Primrose Mrwebi.

88 The story behind the story (Travellers Lodge): Clare Houston, Máire Fisher (The Enumerations) and Meg Vandermerwe (The Woman of the Stone Sea) tell us what brought them to the point of putting pen to paper. Chaired by Dianne Stewart.

SATURDAY EVENING EVENTS

17h30-18h30

89 Silence is the sea (Church Hall): Darrel Bristow-Bovey journeys through Japan, outer space, inner space, horror movies and the monasteries of Mount Athos in pursuit of the quietest place on Earth, and one of the keys to creativity. R100 through webtickets.

SUNDAY 19 MAY

10h00-11h00

90 Tipping points (New School Hall): At what point do systems cease to work, and why do governments, institutions and society allow this state to exist? Adam Habib and Peter Hain discuss this timely topic with Martin Welz.

91 Imagining the unimaginable (Old School Hall): Hlumelo Biko (Re-imagine Africa), Peter Storey (I Beg to Differ) and Sue Nyathi offer a deep understanding of the human psyche and its ability to create visions of future hope and possibilities. Chaired by Georgina Guedes.

92 The whataboutism of corruption (Church Hall): Tom Eaton looks corruption in its ugly face with Leon Schreiber and Ralph Mathekga.

95 Writing to genre (Council Chamber): To make it as a commercial writer, is it better to stick to type or mix it up? Pippa Hudson asks Lauri Kubuitsile and Craig Higginson.

94 I'm still here (Hospice Hall): When the world crashes down on you, what is it that breaks? Landa Mabenge and Desiree-Anne Martin (We don't talk about it. Ever) have both been through trials of fire, but what does that actually mean, and how did they come back? Amalia Rosenblum finds out.

SUNDAY 11h30-12h30

95 The long shadow of apartheid (New School Hall): Apartheid officially ended in April 1994, but it still has an horrendous effect on human rights in South Africa. John Dugard and Harris Dousemetzis discuss the whys and the what-nows with Victor Dlamini.

96 What is a man? (Old School Hall): Landa Mabenge, Chike Frankie Edozien and Tony Peake discuss the essence of manhood and how the term is being redefined with Africa Melane.

SUNDAY 11h30-12h30

97 Re-imagining a nation (Church Hall): Ray Ndlovu shares his own informed insights into the current state – and future opportunities for – our most powerful neighbour, Zimbabwe, with Mike Wills.

SUNDAY 11h30-12h30

98 Visual storytelling (Congregational Church): Photographers Paul Choy and Heinrich van den Berg (Mood of Nature) tell richly detailed tales without words. They discuss their art with John Maytham.

99 The mind of the poacher (Council Chamber): Conservation biologist, journalist and co-author Kimón de Greef (Poacher: Confessions from the Abalone Underworld) reveals the dark underbelly of environmental theft with extraordinary compassion, in what promises to be a riveting conversation with Francoise Malby-Anthony.

100 Unlocking the riches of a multilingual repertoire (Hospice Hall)

The United Nations declared 2019 as the Year of Indigenous languages, but languages don't exist in isolation of each other. Could multilingualism be a path to turning young children into readers? Carolyn McKinney (Language and Power in Post-Colonial Schooling) and Babalwayashe Molate look at some exciting new approaches with Halala Winner! co-author Xolisa Guzula.

101 Are South African's ready to engage with African art? (Bordeaux House Gallery): There has been little interest in art produced by those beyond our borders. Democracy promised a more pan-African view. Are we able to appreciate art from countries from which we have been historically disconnected? Mary Corrigan of Corrigan & Co African Art Specialists, DRC artist Patrick Bongoy and Emma Bedford of Aspire Art auction house discuss with Tamara LePine-Williams.

SUNDAY 11:30-12:40

Concert 3 (NG Church)

Albie van Schalkwyk (piano) and Daniel Pinoit (cello) plays Beethoven's Cello Sonatas Nos. 3, 4 and 5. R100 through www.webtickets.co.za and at the door.

SUNDAY 13h00-14h00

102 Is the ANC fit to govern? (New School Hall): Pieter-Louis Myburgh's explosive new book Gangster State interrogates the depths of ANC secretary-general Ace Magashule's alleged murky dealings – and the subsequent impact on the integrity of the ruling party. The obvious question is raised by Ralph Mathekga.

103 Going wild (Old School Hall): Climate change is destroying Earth as we know it. What can we do to change that? Duncan Brown explores how we can un-tame ourselves to stop the degradation of our home, with Lorraine Sithole.

SUNDAY 13h00-14h00

104 Have pen, will travel (Church Hall): Lerato Mogoathle, Erns Grundling and Sihle Khumalo (Rainbow Nation My Zulu Arse) share travel tales with the happy wanderer that is Darrel Bristow-Bovey.

SUNDAY 13h00-14h00

105 Close to home (Congregational Church): Hermann Lategan (Opstokers, fopdoosers en tweegat-jakkalse) talks language, culture, people and anything else South African that amuses, bemuses or infuriates, with Hagen Engler.

106 Beware the critics (Hospice Hall): Good story, great writing, excellent research? What do reviewers and social commentators look for in a book, and are they always 100 percent honest in their assessments? Sue Grant-Marshall leads the conversation with Gail Schimmel and Fiona Snyckers.

SUNDAY 13h00-14h00

107 Beyond Mugabe – New Zim fiction (Council Chamber): Sue Nyathi and Rutendo Tavengerwei share their insights into the wealth of new, creative and often insightful fiction writers and writing emerging from Zimbabwe. Chaired by Ekow Duker.

108 One-one-with Graham Viney (Travellers Lodge) John Maytham talks to historical writer Graham Viney (The Last Hurrah, - South Africa and the Royal Tour 1947) about this fascinating story of a pivotal moment in South African history.